

Alpine Glacier

Water in the ground is called groundwater. It is found in cracks and spaces in the soil and rocks.

Clouds

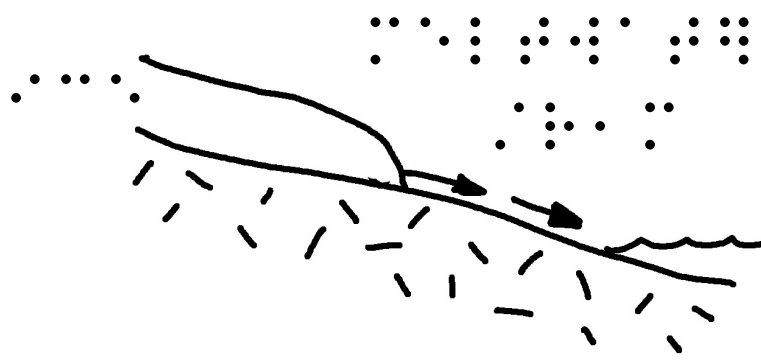

Water in the air is called water vapor. It is formed when water on the ground or in the air is heated.

Rain

Water on the ground can evaporate into the air. This process is called evaporation.

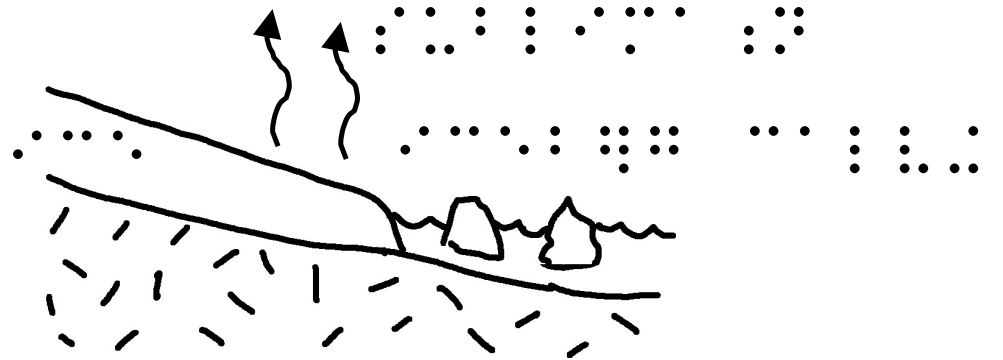

Groundwater

Surface water

Water in the ground is called groundwater.

It is found in cracks and spaces in the soil and rocks.

Water on the ground can evaporate into the air.

This process is called evaporation.

