

Grand Canyon – Precambrian Units

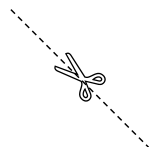

Diagram illustrating the geological structure of a mountain range, showing the relationship between different rock layers and their relative positions.

The diagram shows a cross-section of a mountain range with various geological features and rock layers.

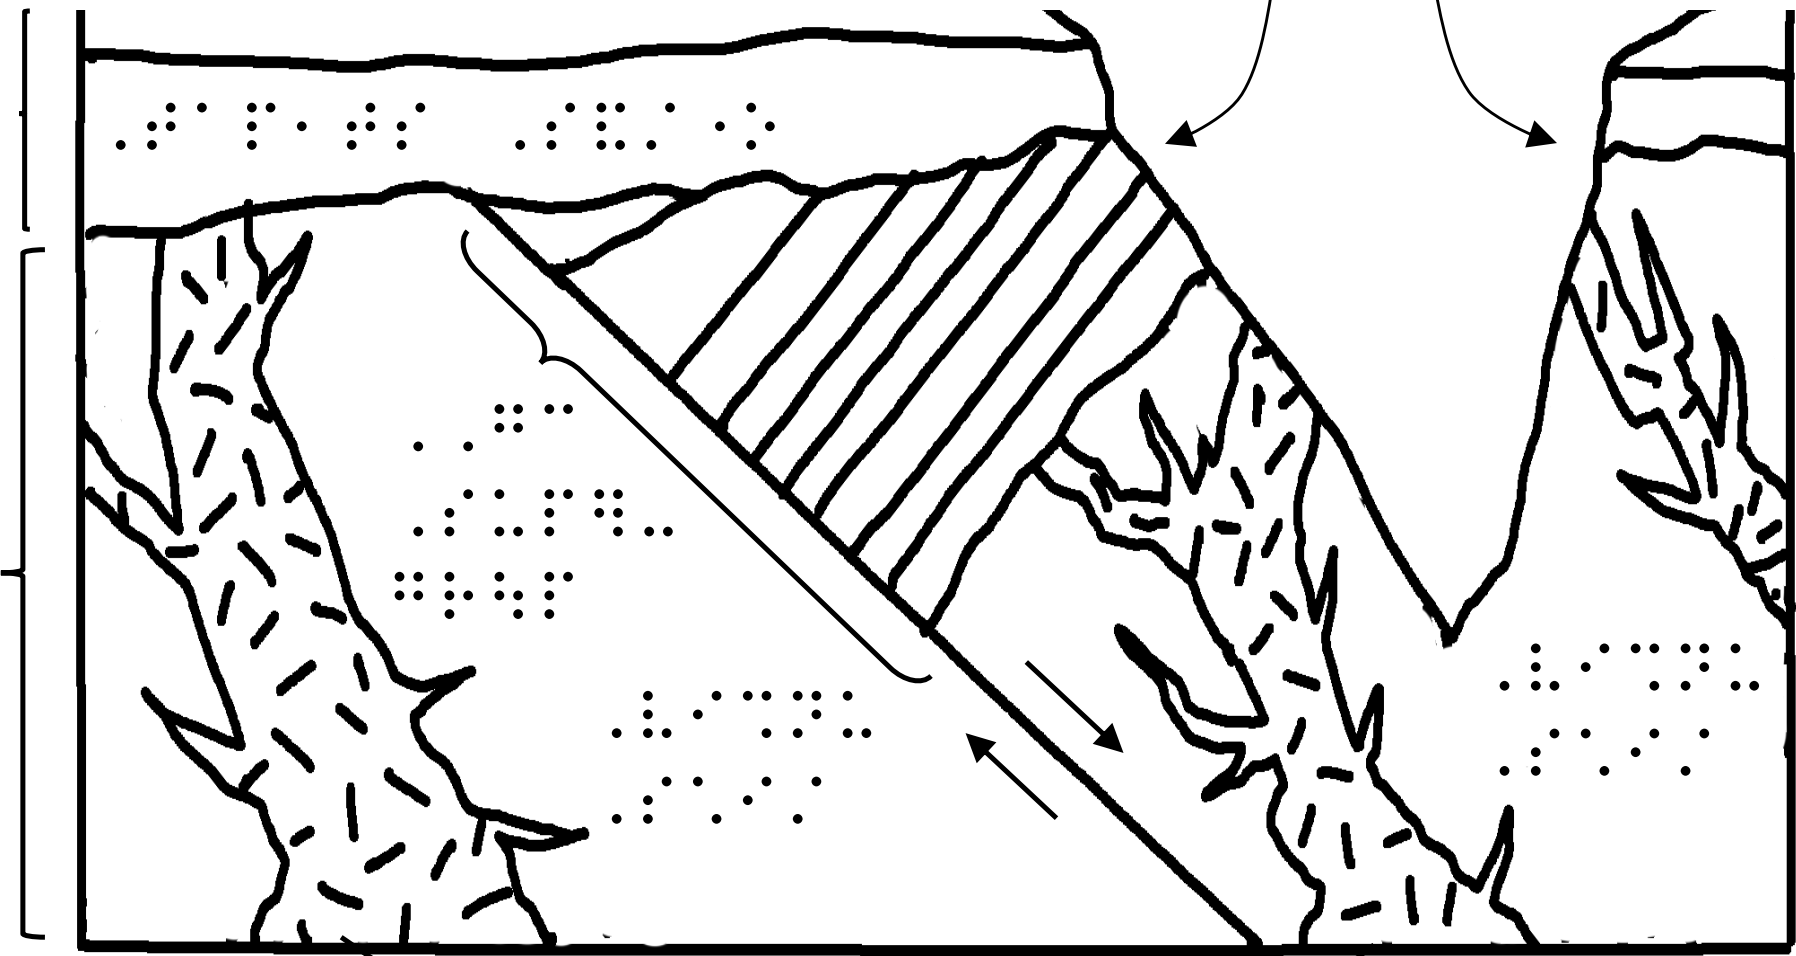

Diagram illustrating the geological structure of a mountain range, showing the relationship between different rock layers and their relative positions.

The diagram shows a cross-section of a mountain range with various geological features and rock layers.

The diagram shows a cross-section of a mountain range with various geological features and rock layers.

Diagram illustrating the geological structure of a mountain range, showing the relationship between different rock layers and their relative positions.

